HERITAGE PRACTICE IN CONTESTED SPACES

BACK GROUND

Heritage Practice in Contested Spaces is an exciting participatory learning opportunity developed by Causeway Museum Service in collaboration with partners ranging from local community groups to international organisations. It looks at a range of impressive local work in a wider context with 'learning to learn' a key objective. It is relevant to everyone who engages with or uses heritage in their work.

BOOKINGS

Full Programme, booking form and bursary applications are available at www.niarhive.org and www.minom-icom.net

Thanks to the generosity of our funders the seminar is free of charge. Priority will be given to those attending the four days and those participating in the Ideas Market. In addition bursaries are available to cover accommodation costs for volunteers working in communities in Northern Ireland.

IDEAS MARKET

In order to encourage participation and knowledge sharing the seminar includes dedicated space within the RVACC to post and share project and case studies. Ideas Market will be open throughout the seminar with specific opportunity for participants to share, review and reflect on these ideas during the forum on Wednesday. Please indicate on the booking form if you wish to avail of this opportunity and CMS will contact you directly to discuss your stall.

WHERE TO STAY

Participants are asked to make their own accommodation arrangements. Roe Valley Arts and Cultural Centre Tourist Information Centre can provide information and guidance.
