

BASKET & COUNTRY INDUSTRIES.

Growth of an Unique Enterprise. PRIDE OF CASTLECAT.

Wool Cut, Dyed, and Woven into Wearing Apparel.

Production and sale, on behalf of Girl Guides, Headquarter Fund, was held in local Girl Guide Hall, Waverley Road, Ballymena.

For the PEOPLE'S BENEFIT. The Industries, Mrs. Demmy explained, was organized for the benefit of the people of the district, many homes being now over-populated by it.

There was a large gathering at the opening ceremony yesterday, when the chair was occupied by Major C. B. King, D.S.O., Ballymena.

Mr. Malcolm Patrick, Co. Commissioner (Irish Gaol), and the industries were organized to do the laundry something to do in their leisure time.

FASHION HINTS

Woman's Realm

Importance of the Shoulder-line

The shoulder-line is very important just now. Nearly all the day frocks have epaulettes shoulders, simple little dresses being made with straight across over the top of which small shawl cape epaulettes are buttoned, giving a smart, new idea.

Evening ideas are numerous. Gowns of simple satin or maroon have the most delicate and subtle of effects. The cape is fitted to the rather high neckline, thus forming a large gathering at the opening.

Very "young" frocks feature the "off-the-shoulder" style. These are most becoming and flatter. They are made of light-colored materials.

Lace All the Time. Lace is always well to the fore. This season it is used for lingerie as well as frocks, and this is unusual, for generally it is only fashionable for one thing at a time.

Lace jumper gowns. Lovely evening gowns are made in a most original manner, with long graceful skirts of satin, maroon, georgette, chiffon, or tulle.

Evening and Daytime Scares. Very attractive scarves are worn with plain lace, or tulle frocks. One is made of very large squares of different colors.

Local Industry. The Rev. E. V. Martin, rector of St. Peter's, Northampton's eldest church, speaking at the annual parochial meeting yesterday, said that what struck him as curious in the country was that the people were so much interested in the question of the Archdeacon of Canterbury.

RESTORING COLOURS

Silk Bedsreads and Curtains

Reviving the Colour. BEFORE you spring-clean the house look to your best bedsreads and curtains. Many an old curtain, carefully cleaned, may be made into a bedspread, short-curtain, or, even, a coverlet.

To Restore the Colour. If the color is any shade of blue-grey, sky, cerise, mauve, dark blue, or purple, put into the rinsing water half a teaspoonful of orange juice.

For Dark Colour. When washing dark-colored silk curtains or bedspreads, use a little lemon juice to brighten the material out. But do not let the color run.
